The following Address of the Lieutenant Governor, the Bailiff and Jurats of His Majesty's Royal Court, His Majesty's Officers Civil and Military, and other principal Gentlemen of the Island of Guernsey, has been presented to His Majesty by the Right Honourable the Earl of De Lawarr, Governor of the said Island, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Lieutenant Governor, the Bailiff and Jurats of your Majesty's Royal Court, your Majesty's Officers Civil and Military, and other principal Gentlemen in this your Island of Guernsey.

Most gracious Sovereign,

WE your Majesty's dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Lieutenant Governor, the Bailiff, Jurats and Officers of your Majesty's Royal Court, the Military Officers and other principal Gentlemen in this your Island of Guernsey, beg Leave to reiterate the humble Tender of our Duty and Affection on the two-fold joyful Occasion, your Majesty's Marriage,

[ Price Six pence. ]

riage, and Coronation; which, as it enlarges our Proſpect of future Security, ſo it gives us Room to to anticipate the Happineſs of after-Ages.

It is with exquiſite Satisfaction we behold the ancient Britiſh Blood and Spirits unite and gather freſh Strength in your Royal Perſon.

As the Spreading of the Britiſh Stem in your Royal Line, is intereſting and important to every true Briton; ſo the univerſal Joy of your loving Subjects receives its Completion, from the happy Choice your Majeſty has made of your Royal Conſort, and our Queen; a Princeſs remarkably eminent for Patriot Virtues, and endued with all other Accompliſhments worthy of the Royal Stock of which She is deſcended: A Princeſs carefully bred up, and firmly grounded in Proteſtant Principles, from a Series of great and pious Anceſtors of the illuſtrious and ancient Houſe of Mecklemburgh, who zealouſly embraced, cultivated, and ſtrengthened, the glorious Work of the Reformation, in its early Days.

From ſuch virtuous Combination, and happy Union of heroick Spirits, muſt needs proceed a numerous, noble Progeny of heroick Perſonages, who, (we truſt) will, in their Generation, gladly diſcharge the great Duties incumbent on their high Callings; and under whoſe Shadow, Poſterity will rejoice, and reſt ſecure in the happy Enjoyment of their Rights, Civil, and Religious.

Permit us, Sir, in acquitting ourſelves of the other Part of our Duty, to congratulate heartily your Majeſty on your auſpicious Coronation, amidſt the joint Acclamations of all Ranks and Degrees throughout your Majeſty's Dominions. And, as your Royal Conſort bore Her Part in the Celebration of that high Feſtival, (the Anniverſary whereof will, in ſucceeding Years, be a pleaſing Record to all true Patriots) ſo we heartily make our Gracious Queen the adequate Tribute of our Greetings upon the ſame.

That your Majeſty may long reign glorioufly and happily over your extenſive Dominions; be ever victorious, and a powerful Curb on the Diſturbers of Mankind's Repoſe; and your Royal Line flouriſh to lateſt Poſterity; is the Tenor of our humble Suit to the Almighty; whom we alſo intreat for His plentiful Bleſſings on Her Majeſty the Queen; and the Continuance of His ineſtimable Favours on her Royal Highneſs the Princeſs Dowager of Wales; and on all the Royal Family. Theſe are the fervent Prayers of,

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,
Your Majeſty's moſt dutiful, loyal and affectionate Subjects.

The following Addreſs of the High Sheriff, Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders, of the County of Flint, has been preſented to His Majeſty by Sir Roger Moſtyn, Bart. Repreſentative in Parliament for the ſaid County, being introduced by the Lord of His Majeſty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Addreſs His Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

Moſt gracious Sovereign,

WE moſt humbly preſent to your Majeſty our dutiful and ſincere Congratulations upon your Royal Marriage with an Illuſtrious and Amiable Princeſs, whoſe great Accompliſhments enſure not only domeſtick Happineſs to your Majeſty, but promiſe all that an Event of this Nature can contribute to compleat the Felicity of your People.

With the Prayers of your other joyful Subjects, we fervently join our own, that your Majeſty, and your Royal Conſort, may enjoy continued Proſperity to the utmoſt Period of human Life; and that your Reign may be fortunate and glorious; that a Train of Princes, deſcended from your Majeſties, may ſucceſſively inherit the Crown to the lateſt Poſterity; and that, with the like Virtues, they may perpetuate the Bleſſings, of which theſe Kingdoms are now ſo truly ſenſible under your Majeſty's Auſpicious Reign.

The humble Addreſs of the Sheriff, Nobility, Gentlemen and Clergy of the County of Suffolk.

May it pleaſe your Majeſty,

WE your Majeſty's moſt dutiful Subjects of your County of Suffolk, not leſs zealous than the reſt of your loyal People on every Event which can affect your Majeſty's Happineſs and Proſperity, humbly beg Leave to join in the general Joy, and lay at your Feet our ſincereſt Congratulations on the Celebration of your happy Nuptials.

An Union with a Princeſs, endowed with ſo many Virtues, ſo univerſally approved and acceptable to theſe your Kingdoms, muſt needs fill our Minds with all that Satisfaction and Delight, which it is natural to feel on the Poſſeſſion of preſent Bleſſings, and a Proſpect of a long Succeſſion of them to our Poſterity.

Act up, Great Sir, in every other Inſtance, to the Dictates of your own ingenuous Mind: Shew thoſe Powers, who dare to rank themſelves among the Number of your Enemies, that you both can, and will command ſuch Terms only, as are conſiſtent with a laſting and honourable Peace; and when that deſirable Work ſhall be accompliſhed, purſue ſtill further the Plan of your upright Intentions; cultivate and improve the liberal Arts; cement the Love, and lighten the Burthen of your faithful Subjects; and, above all, encourage and enforce, as you have already done, ſound Religion and Morality, the Baſis and Perfection of all ſocial Felicity: So ſhall Love and Confidence at Home, Honour and unſullied Glory Abroad, keep Pace with your growing Years; and your Name, which is engraved on the Hearts of the preſent Generation, be had in Reverence to the remoteſt Ages.

your late Marriage, with a Princeſs of ſo ancient and noble a Family, firmly attached to, and zealous for, the Proteſtant Religion.

May your Royal Conſort be a fruitful Vine, and a ſhining Pattern to Her Sex; and may your Royal Iſſue be round about yourTable like Olive Branches: That there may never be wanting one of your Illuſtrious Deſcendants, to ſit upon the Throne of theſe Realms, until Time ſhall be no more.

Given under our Common Seal, the 17th of November, 1761.

Such a Princeſs was alone worthy to ſhare the Glories of the Britiſh Crown; and from ſuch an Alliance we cannot but conceive the moſt pleaſing Hope, that thoſe Bleſſings we have hitherto experienced under the Auſpices of your Illuſtrious Houſe, in the free Exerciſe of our Religion, and the full Enjoyment of our Civil Rights, will be continued to us, and tranſmitted to our lateſt Poſterity, by a Race of Princes, animated with Virtues, and formed by the Precepts and Example of their Royal Parents.

When we conſider the paternal Care your Majeſty ſo early exerted for the Welfare and Proſperity of your People, together with your Majeſty's pious Endeavours to promote the Practice of Religion and Virtue, we cannot doubt, but that Heaven will ſhower down abundant Bleſſings on your Reign; which cannot fail of rendering yourMajeſty the greateſt of Princes, and your Subjects happy under the Direction and Government of ſo wiſe and ſo religious a King.

It is with the utmoſt Satisfaction we reflect, that ever ſince your Majeſty's happy Acceſſion to the Crown of theſe Realms, the moſt ſanguine Hopes and Expectations of your dutiful Subjects have been fully anſwered; and that our future Hopes may not be diſappointed, we implore the Almighty to prolong your Majeſty's Sacred Life, and the Life of your Royal Conſort. God, who hath long and bountifully ſhowered down His Favours upon the People of this Iſle, hath not forſaken us in this Event; for we eſteem it a ſingular Inſtance of His Kindneſs to the whole Nation, as well as to yourſelf, that a Crown ſhould be reſerved for your Majeſty here, and till this Juncture, when ſo noble a Pattern of conjugal Affection and maternal Tenderneſs exiſts, and we hope will for many Years continue, near the Throne, for your Majeſty's Imitation.

May the ſame God, for the ſtill greater Good of us all, preſerve your Majeſty long amongſt us, happy and exemplary in the ſeveral Relations of a Wife, a Mother, and a Queen.

The following Addreſs of the Freeholders of the County of Edinburgh, has been preſented to Her Majeſty: Which Addreſs Her Majeſty was pleaſed to receive very graciouſly.

Amidſt the univerſal Joy which diffuſes itſelf over theſe Kingdoms on this happy Occaſion, it would be highly ingrateful in us not to remember your Royal Highneſs, whoſe maternal Care ſowed thoſe early Seeds of Virtue in His Majeſty's Breaſt, which have ſince yielded ſo plentiful an Harveſt.

May your Royal Highneſs long live to ſee their Majeſties compleatly bleſſed in each other, and in a numerous Offſpring: And may there never be wanting one of their Deſcendants to wear the Crown of theſe Realms, who may, with His Majeſty's Throne, inherit His Royal Virtues.
